19th Century Finely Cast Bronze Hand with Ornamental Cuff A beautifully cast 19th-century bronze sculpture of a delicate female right hand, rendered with graceful, elongated fingers and naturalistic detailing to the nails and knuckles. The hand emerges from an ornate cuff adorned with scrolling foliate motifs and a central circular medallion, adding a decorative flourish to the piece. Warm brown patina enhances the depth of the casting, highlighting subtle contours and surface textures. An elegant example of 19th-century bronze artistry, this piece reflects both technical skill and aesthetic refinement.
