PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Antler Bench with Leather Seat Northern Europe, contemporary This striking antler bench is a contemporary work crafted in Northern Europe, drawing inspiration from traditional alpine and sporting furniture. The sculptural base is formed from carefully selected antlers, artfully arranged to create a balanced and visually dynamic structure that highlights the natural curves, textures, and tonal variations of the material. The seat is upholstered in thick, high-quality leather, offering a comfortable surface while complementing the organic character of the antler base. Rooted in centuries-old hunting lodge and chalet traditions, this bench reinterprets rustic design through a modern lens, making it equally suited to lodge-style interiors and contemporary spaces seeking a natural focal element. The combination of natural materials and skilled craftsmanship results in a functional object with strong sculptural presence. Dimensions: 50" L x 14" W x 17.5" H
