

CREEL AND GOW

EFFERVESCENCE: 19TH-CENTURY GLASS DOME WITH NEW SHIMMERING BUTTERFLIES

SKU: N/A

Categories: Butterflies & Bugs, Nature

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

"Effervescence" by Hasharat* is a stunning composition that combines antique and contemporary elements, encased within a large 19th-century oval glass dome measuring 18" x 8" x 20.5" H. This antique Napoleon III-era globe hosts a dazzling collection of shimmering butterflies in vivid hues of iridescent blue, fiery orange, soft white, and deep purple. The butterflies are artfully arranged on a contorted hazel branch, creating a mesmerizing display of natural beauty and artistic craftsmanship. The antique glass dome lends historical depth, while the modern composition adds a fresh, creative perspective, making this piece a unique blend of timeless elegance and innovative design. Perfect for collectors and admirers of fine art or natural history, this one-of-a-kind creation bridges the past and present in an extraordinary way.