Gilt Framed Herbarium Botanical Specimens from the 19th Century: Bring a piece of history into your home with our set of four Gilt Framed Herbarium Botanical Specimens from the 19th Century. Each framed piece is 13" x 0.75" x 17" H and is a testament to the popular pastime of collecting herbarium (Plant specimens) among affluent Europeans in the late 19th century. These specimens were collected, dried, pressed, and mounted with the original paper strip mounts, with the names of the plants either written on the sheet or on an attached label. The gilt frames add a touch of sophistication and elegance to these unique and rare pieces. These botanical specimens are not only visually stunning, but also serve as a reminder of a bygone era and the beauty of nature.
