PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

19th Century French Iron and Wood Table A handsome 19th century French table featuring a rectangular wood top supported by an ornate wrought iron base, showcasing elegant scrollwork and a central stretcher with a spherical finial. The table embodies the rustic sophistication of provincial French craftsmanship, where robust materials were married with graceful, decorative ironwork for both durability and aesthetic appeal. Its generous proportions make it versatile as a dining table, console, or work table, while the timeworn patina of the wood surface reflects generations of use. Likely crafted by a skilled provincial atelier specializing in forged iron furniture, this piece is a fine example of the regional tradition of combining practicality with decorative artistry. Dimensions: Height 29.5" x Width 63" x Depth 30.5".
