PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Refined Bronze and Glass Sunflower Table Lamp, France, circa 1930s-1940s, Art Deco period with lingering Art Nouveau influence. This sculptural table lamp is formed as a stylized bronze stem rising from a stepped base and terminating in a finely modeled sunflower motif. The corolla is rendered as a thick, worked glass disc with softly faceted surfaces, mounted in brass, while a chased bronze leaf hangs naturally from the stem, emphasizing the organic, botanical inspiration characteristic of French decorative lighting of the period. The lamp offers multiple lighting modes, allowing the sunflower element, an alternate light source, or both to be illuminated independently. It is fully functional and structurally sound. A decorative and expressive example of interwar French lighting, combining sculptural form with refined materials and craftsmanship. Dimensions: 17.75" Diameter, 33.5" H
