Pair of Mid-Century Modern Bronze and Iron Andirons, France A striking pair of Mid-Century Modern andirons crafted in France, featuring bold geometric design with square bronze blocks capped by polished bronze spheres, supported on twisted iron shafts and arched iron bases. The combination of materials—warm patinated bronze and rugged iron—creates a sophisticated contrast, characteristic of French mid-century design. Functional yet sculptural, these andirons embody modernist simplicity with a touch of Brutalist influence, making them ideal for both use in a fireplace and as decorative accents.
