PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

This exquisite Creel and Gow console table combines whimsical design with finely crafted details, creating a remarkable piece that exudes both elegance and rustic charm. Measuring 60" in length, 14.5" in depth, and standing 36" tall, this "Hoofie" console table features expertly carved hoof legs that add a playful, nature-inspired touch. The white-washed wooden frame is adorned with a distressed gilt finish, highlighting intricate carvings on the skirt, which resemble leaves or feathers and lend the table an opulent yet organic feel. Known for their eclectic and high-quality pieces, Creel and Gow blends classical influences with unique design elements, making this console as much a work of art as a functional piece. With its rich texture, detailed carving, and elegantly whimsical style, this table is a captivating centerpiece that brings timeless elegance and character to any room.
