PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Hand-carved in Indonesia from naturally shed North American moose antler, this finely detailed sculpture depicts a majestic eagle perched on a textured base. The artisan has skillfully used the natural coloration and grain of the antler to enhance the lifelike rendering of the feathers, talons, and beak, adding depth and realism. Moose naturally shed their antlers annually, making this carving both sustainable and unique, with each piece shaped by the organic form of the antler. Combining the regal presence of the eagle—a universal symbol of freedom and strength—with the natural beauty of moose antler, this piece reflects both masterful craftsmanship and the character of its rare material.
