LARGE POLISHED MALACHITE SPECIMEN - THE STONE OF TRANSFORMATION

SKU: sm128_MS

Categories: Mineral, Natural Specimens

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

This stunning large malachite specimen features polished points that highlight the intricate banding and vibrant green hues characteristic of this prized mineral. Known for its distinctive botryoidal formations and concentric patterns, malachite has been valued for centuries both for its aesthetic appeal and metaphysical properties. The smooth, high-gloss polished sections contrast beautifully with the natural raw texture, showcasing the stone's organic beauty. A favorite among collectors, crystal enthusiasts, and interior designers, this one-of-a-kind specimen makes a striking display piece, bringing a touch of nature's artistry and elegance to any space. Malachite is known as the "Stone of Transformation", promoting emotional healing, protection, and spiritual growth. It absorbs negative energy, shields against EMFs, and activates the heart chakra, encouraging love and balance. Malachite is also associated with abundance, intuition, and physical healing, especially for the immune and circulatory systems. Due to its high copper content, it should be handled with care and not exposed to water. Measures: 7.25" x 5" x 2.25"
