PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

A Monumental early 20th-century European carved wooden axe trade sign, measuring an impressive 60" in length. This extraordinary piece, with its distinctively oversized design, was likely used as a shop or trade sign, possibly for a blacksmith or lumber-related business. The axe features a robust curved wooden handle, beautifully aged with a rich, dark patina, and a strikingly large blade with worn, textured detailing, showcasing the craftsmanship of the era. This imposing object serves as a powerful symbol of both industrial history and folk art, making it a striking display piece for any collection. Measures: 59" x 22" x 6.5"
