PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

An impressive traditional Miao silver pectoral necklace, hand-forged from coiled silver wire with a large central spiral medallion. The rigid collar form is composed of thick, tightly wound wire loops, creating a bold, architectural silhouette, and is anchored at the front by a suspended circular pendant formed from a continuous spiral of silver, symbolizing longevity and continuity in Miao culture. Such pectorals were worn during important festivals and ceremonies as emblems of status, wealth, and cultural identity. Likely mid-20th century or earlier. Silver metal. Dimensions: Depth 3.5" (8.9 cm), Width 9" (22.9 cm), Height 13" (33 cm). Mounted on a custom display stand.
