Mid-20th Century French Interior Still Life Oil on canvas Signed lower left: M. Peyzin This refined mid-20th-century French interior still life depicts an intimate tabletop arrangement set before an ornate gilt mirror. Central to the composition is a sculptural table lamp with a boldly painted fish-form base, topped by a lampshade decorated with a stylized fish motif—an expressive and whimsical focal point that introduces movement and character to the scene. Surrounding objects include glass perfume bottles, a strand of green beads, and softly draped textiles, all arranged against a richly patterned floral wall covering. Executed in oil on canvas, the work is rendered in warm, harmonious tones with confident, painterly brushwork. Particular attention is paid to texture and surface, especially in the reflective glass vessels and the gilded mirror frame, which adds depth and architectural presence. Signed by M. Peyzin, the painting reflects the enduring French tradition of interior still-life painting, blending decorative modernism with classical compositional balance. Presented in its period gilt frame, the work offers strong decorative appeal and a distinctly mid-century French sensibility. Dimensions: 25.25" L x 1" W x 30.25" H
