PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Moose Antler Octopus - Eight Arms of Awesome This spectacular cephalopod is making waves in the world of art! Hand-carved from naturally shed moose antlers, this eco-friendly octopus is full of charm, texture, and tentacled personality. Sourced from the U.S. and intricately carved by master artisans in Indonesia, each piece showcases swirling tentacles and stunning detail that brings the ocean to life—without ever leaving dry land. Whether you're into marine life, natural materials, or just love a good conversation starter, this beautifully bizarre creature is ready to wrap itself around your heart (not literally... we think). 7"
