Moose Antler Yoga Skeleton - Hand-Carved & Totally Zen Say hello to the most chill skeleton you'll ever meet! Hand-carved from naturally shed moose antlers (yep, no moose were bothered in the making), this quirky piece blends spooky and serene in the best way. The antlers are sustainably collected in the U.S., then sent to talented artisans in Indonesia who bring this bony yogi to life—er, afterlife. Whether you're into yoga, skeletons, or just love a good conversation piece, this eco-friendly sculpture adds a touch of whimsy and wisdom to any space.
