PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Pair of Early 19th Century Neoclassical Andirons with Interlocking Dolphin Motif A finely cast pair of early 19th century gilt-bronze and wrought iron andirons, each featuring an elegant neoclassical design surmounted by an acorn finial above boldly modeled interlocking dolphins, a symbol of strength and protection often favored in Regency and Empire decorative arts. The dolphins are crisply detailed with finely incised scales and expressive faces, their entwined bodies forming a strong architectural base. The combination of ormolu bronze and iron reflects the period's balance of decorative refinement with practical durability. Dimensions: 15.75" deep x 7.75" wide x 20.5" high.
