PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

This elegant pair of early 20th-century wall sconces, produced in Continental Europe and attributed to Maison Baguès, exemplifies the refined decorative lighting for which the Parisian atelier is celebrated. Crafted in gilt metal with scrolling foliate arms and stylized floral motifs, each sconce is centered by faceted crystal elements evocative of traditional oil or candle reservoirs, a hallmark of Baguès' historicist vocabulary. The sculptural crystal components are mounted within decorative settings and function both as visual focal points and as light reflectors, enhancing the warmth and brilliance of the candle-style illumination. The softly aged gilt surface and balanced symmetry of the ironwork reflect the continued influence of late 19th-century Louis XV and floral revival styles, reinterpreted through an early 20th-century decorative lens. Well proportioned and richly detailed, the pair is ideally suited for flanking a mirror, doorway, or cheminée, and transitions effortlessly between classical interiors and more eclectic decorative schemes.
