PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

This elegant Reclining Chair Louis XIV is a stunning example of 17th Century French country furniture design and a very rare find. The chair's metal mechanism allows the user to adjust the backrest to a reclining position, offering both comfort and practicality. Additionally, two metal bars extend from the chair's arms, adding to its functionality. Crafted with exquisite attention to detail, this Louis XIV chair boasts a rich history as the predecessor to the iconic BarcaLounger. Its timeless design and exceptional quality make it an exceptional addition to any interior space, from a cozy reading nook to a formal living room. Measuring at 41" x 27" with a height of 45.5", this chair offers generous proportions without compromising on style. Its intricate metalwork, combined with the leather upholstery, creates a sense of luxury and sophistication that is unmatched by modern furniture. Whether you're a collector of antique furniture or simply looking for a statement piece to elevate your home's decor, this Reclining Chair Louis XIV is a must-have. With its impeccable craftsmanship and timeless design, it is sure to become a cherished addition to your collection for years to come. Measures: 41" x 27" x H 45.5"
