CREEL AND GOW

Under the Canopy: This exquisite composition seamlessly blends insect preservation with contemporary artistry, featuring an array of real butterflies meticulously arranged by Hasharat within a very tall cylindrical glass dome. The display showcases species such as the prized emerald green Ornithoptera priamus poseidon, vibrant orange Appias nero zarinda, striking black-and-yellow Papilio thoas, delicate white Graphium delesserti, and richly patterned Idea leuconoe, among others—each poised in lifelike flight upon a contorted hazel wood branch. The graceful elongated oval dome and historical character, rests atop a refined black wooden base, providing an elegant contrast to the vivid natural specimens. This one-of-a-kind piece mimics Victorian age dioramas and captures the ephemeral beauty of nature through a modern lens, while preserving the charm of a bygone era. Dimensions: 12.5" diameter × 25.5" height. Local Pickup or White Glove Delivery Quote Only
